1 Introduction

I took this project as a personal challenge because my solution for project 1 was rather shit. This project was rather fun to work with. I even liked so much that i included extra features into the program.

2 The Algorithm

“The elder among the men looked deep into the fire and spoke loud with pride tomorrow is a fine day to die”

- Me preparing myself to start working on the project

I started slowed, thinking how should i approach this. I booked myself a meeting with Indians that resonates with my hearth. In the end i solved the problem by using loads of classes, lists and other lovely things. I left more comments in the code to justify what i did.

3 Conclusion

This was rather fun project to do. I hope my solution is satisfying at least.
